EXT. THE DESERT OF TRAQ-EL - DAY

SCARLET V.O

Did you ever here the fable of The Sand King? No? On the planet Traq-El there was sorcerer who could control the desert sands with his mind. A demon saw the sorcerers powers, and challenged him to show how powerful he was, by creating a mighty sand storm which would end up washing over a nearby city.

SCARLET ORION and a robot named KAL walk across the sand dunes of an alien desert.

SCARLET V.O

The demon was impressed and awarded the sorcerer with a golden crown, making him the king of the city he sent the sand storm to.

SCARLET and KAL approach a stone temple.

SCARLET V.O

Naturally the residents didn't take to kindly to this, but they were powerless to stop the sorcerer; and he ruled over them whether they liked him or not. So is this story true? Well the museum in the Kylo system certainly think so, as they've sent me and my husband to find it. I've always said that the oldest legends have some truth to it.

INT. UNDERGROUND TEMPLE - CONTINUOUS:

KAL moves a large stone that's blocking the temple entrance.

SCARLET:

Thank you darling. You see anything?

KAL:

It's too dark inside.

SCARLET:

Give me second.

SCARLET takes a lantern from out of her bag.

SCARLET:
Here it is.
(whispering)
Ignis Flamma.

SCARLET's gold belt glows, as she magically lights the lantern.

SCARLET: Better?

KAL:
Let's get going, Scarlet.

The two enter the temple, and walk down a long, dark stairway.

INT. TEMPLE STAIRWELL - LATER:

They reach the bottom and then stop at a stone door.

SCARLET:
There's to be something craved into that door.

KAL:
This language is ancient, what does it say?

SCARLET:
"Here lies the tomb of Sand King, as he rules the land of sand with his throne of stone and a crown of gold".

KAL:
Ah, so he must be in there.

SCARLET:
Indeed, I can still sense this guy's magic from here.

They push the doors open.

INT. THE SAND KING'S TOMB - CONTINUOUS:

SCARLET and KAL enter the enormous chamber.

SCARLET:
Woah! This must be the throne room.
It's as beautiful as the rumours say.

KAL:

Indeed, the museum curators will pay big money for our findings.

SCARLET:

It's always about the money with you KAL. Whatever happened to appreciating the history around you?

KAL:

Over there, on the throne! That must be The Sand King.

SCARLET examines the skeleton on the throne.

SCARLET:

Well what's left of him. The flesh has completely decayed. I'd say he died around three thousand years ago.

The skeleton grabs SCARLET's arm.

SCARLET:

Ahh! It's got me, it's got me!

KAL:

Stay still!

KAL shoots the skeletons arm with a laser gun, and it screams demonically.

SCARLET:

Thanks KAL. I knew i could sense magic.

The Sand King stands up, drawing a large sword.

KAL:

Oh god, it's still moving!

Sand starts pouring out of the walls.

KAL:

Oh crap the sand is now moving, why is it doing that?

SCARLET:

He can control the sand, and he could use it to create anything he wanted.

The sand surrounds the skeleton, turning it into a tall sand monster.

SCARLET:

(Scared and awkward)

Now listen Mr Sand King, we don't want any trouble, we just want your crown and we'll let you rest in peace.

KAL shoots at the king; causing no damage.

KAL:

Scarlet, can you please help?!

SCARLET:

Out of the way KAL! Ignis Flamma!

SCARLET's belt glows as she cast a fire spell against The King.

KAL:

Scarlet, it's not working!

SCARLET continues to shoot fire from her hands.

SCARLET:

(Straining herself)

Just...a little longer!

The Sand King screams as the fire causes the sand on its body to turn into a glass.

SCARLET:

(Out of breath)

There we are...sorted...

KAL:

Are you alright SCARLET?

SCARLET:

Fine, thanks sweetie; just let me catch my breath. You OK?

KAL:

What did you do?

SCARLET:

I needed to cast that spell long enough to heat up the sand on his body.

KAL:
You turned him into glass?

SCARLET:
More or less, yeah.

SCARLET taps her finger on the glass.

KAL:
You never cease to amaze me.

SCARLET:
This guy is going to make a fine display piece.

KAL:
Indeed. Now how do we get him up the stairs?

INT. USS THESEUS: LATER

The ship is flying through space. SCARLET is cleaning the crown with a small brush.

SCARLET:
There, all nice and pretty.

KAL:
Incoming message.

SCARLET:
Who's it from?

KAL:
It's Valdius Corvo of all people.

SCARLET:
What does a tech company CEO want with an archaeologist?

SCARLET presses a button, it plays a holographic message from VALDIUS CORVO.

VALDIUS:
Dr Scarlet Orion. I'm in need of your archaeological skills; meet me at my office on Chimera. Please don't be late.

KAL is setting coordinates on a control panel.

SCARLET:
What are you doing?

KAL:
Whatever this job is you know he'll pay big money.

SCARLET:
Yeah, tell that to his factory workers...or at least the ones he hasn't replaced with robots yet.

KAL:
I've set a course for the coordinates for Chimera.

KAL pulls a lever, The Theseus dashes through space.

SCENE SIX - INT. CORVO'S OFFICE:

VALDIUS is sitting at his desk, his large office is filled with various antiques and artefacts.

A knock on the door is heard.

VALDIUS:
Come in.

SCARLET and KAL enter.

VALDIUS:
You must bet Dr Orion, it's so nice to meet you.

SCARLET:
Likewise Mr Corvo, this is my husband/
assistant KAL.

KAL:
Hello.

VALDIUS' antique display grabs SCARLET'S attention.

SCARLET:
Is that a roman centurion helmet on your display?

VALDIUS:
Yes, I knew you'd like my antique collection, I'm bit of historian myself. Please take a look.

KAL:
Well this stuff looks expensive.

SCARLET:
...And that's a Martian sarcophagus.
And berserker armour. Are those the sandals of Hercules?

VALDIUS:
Yes, I see you're familiar with Hercules then.

KAL:
Familiar? I once got my head kicked in by the man's ghost.

SCARLET:
This is a very impressive collection,
I too have a Camelot plasma rifle like this one.

KAL:
Please stay focused darling. I'm sure
Mr Corvo is a busy man.

VALDIUS:
Indeed, take a seat. I have a job for you.

The three sit down at CORVO'S desk.

VALDIUS:
Now then Dr Orion, may I ask, what do you know about the titans of the planet Ripto?

SCARLET:
Oh, they're just legends.

KAL:
When has that ever stopped us?

VALDIUS:
Either way. I'm sure you know about the lightning titan, Tempest?

SCARLET:
Admittedly not much is known about Ripto. But legend says that vicious and powerful giant Titans reigned over the planet for centuries until they destroyed themselves.

KAL:

And this Tempest person is one of the
them as well?

SCARLET:

It's said that Tempest had a jewel that could let him summon lightning from his mighty claws.

VALDIUS shows an old paper map.

VALDIUS:

A business partner gave me this map.
She says the jewel is located there,
in the ocean of storms.

SCARLET:

So why would you want a jewel like that Mr Corvo?

VALDIUS:

It's a gem that can generate lightning. Think of the potential of harnessing just a little of that power; with every building and home on this planet being endlessly powered by it.

SCARLET:

So you want to take the power of the stone and turn it into a battery?

VALDIUS:

Not just a battery, but millions of ever lasting batteries giving power to the entire star system. There are thousands of under developed planets without electric lights and heating;
and think of this is my gift from me to them.

KAL:

How much you offering?

VALDIUS:

Per person, two million credits before you go and another two million when you return.

KAL:
Scarlet may I talk with you for a second?

KAL and SCARLET get up and talk privately.

KAL:
You don't trust Valdius, don't you?

SCARLET:
I'm not sure if I trust anyone with magic that powerful.

KAL:
Scarlet, we would be set for life if we take this job.

SCARLET:
I want to see it first; to see if that stone really is as powerful as the legends say, before Valdius accidentally blows himself up trying to package and sell the powers of a god.

KAL:
Fair enough.

VALDIUS:
Is everything OK?

SCARLET:
We'll take the job.

INT. SPACESHIP DOCKING BAY:

SCARLET, KAL and VALDIUS walk towards The Theseus.

VALDIUS:
So is this your ship?

SCARLET:
Yep, The USS Theseus. It may not look like much, but it's fast and homely.

VALDIUS:
Excellent. I've already sent you the first two million credits to both of your accounts.

KAL:
Much appreciated, Mr Corvo.

SCARLET notices a pig like alien sitting near the ship.

SCARLET:
Hold on, who's the pig lady?

KAL:
Scarlet, I believe the term is veto,
who's the female Veto?

SCARLET:
Ok, but that doesn't answer my question.

VALDIUS:
This is Elsa Gray. I've hired her as...security in your expedition.

SCARLET:
Security? We can handle ourselves.

VALDIUS:
I'm sure you can. Miss Gray will be coming with you to make sure you're kept on track.

ELSA:
(To KAL and SCARLET)
All I want is for you to do your jobs and let me do mine, or else.

SCARLET:
Or else what? You can't just leave a sentence like that unfinished.

VALDIUS:
I've given Elsa the coordinates and the map. And I wish the three of you the best of luck. Oh Elsa, a quick word with you.
(Whispering)
They make of with the jewel, you shoot on sight.

ELSA:
(Whispering)
Not a problem.

VALDIUS:
 Right then everyone, i best be of;
 good luck to you all.

VALDIUS walks away.

ELSA:
 Now then, get that supply crate on board. On the double!

ELSA boards the Theseus.

KAL:
 This is going to be along trip.

INT. USS THESEUS:

SCARLET and KAL carry a heavy container on board the ship and put it down.

ELSA:
 Careful! The stuff in there is both delicate and explosive.

SCARLET:
 Explosive? This crate is full of weapons isn't it?

ELSA:
 Among other essentials...

SCARLET:
 With all due respect miss Elsa, KAL is built with this own self defence mechanisms; so an additional carrier case of weaponry seems a bit much.

KAL:
 Scarlet, need I remind you about the times our archaeological expeditions ended with some mystic beast trying to kill us for raiding the tomb it was guarding?

SCARLET:
 I mean you can, but can you please not? Thanks honey.

ELSA:
 Now then: as the leader of this expedition Mr Corvo's map shall remain with me at all times.

SCARLET:

Oh that won't be necessary. We've done enough treasure hunting many a times before.

ELSA:

(To SCARLET)

Listen here witch. Mr Corvo placed me in charge. Now either you follow my commands or you're out. Understood?

SCARLET:

You heard her KAL, let's set the coordinates. Prepare to go to light speed.

ELSA:

Light speed, in this tin can?

SCARLET:

Hey I admit it may not look like much, but The Theseus has enough horse power to shoot us across the universe if need be.

KAL sets coordinates on a control panel.

KAL:

Anyway, coordinates are set. Ready for launch.

KAL operates some controls, causing the ship to take off at light speed.

EXT. RIPTO - DAY:

The Theseus arrives at top speed before coming to a stop; arriving over a vast ocean.

INT . USS THESEUS - CONTINUOUS:

SCARLET:

I told you we'd make it on schedule.

ELSA looks out the window.

ELSA:

Is this Ripto?!

KAL:

Yes.

ELSA:

Impressive, what engine model is this?

KAL:

The engine is a custom built hyper drive designed for energy propulsion and space bending.

SCARLET:

Yes me and KAL modified it using various magical tokens and trinkets for a bit of boost.

ELSA:

So this ship is powered by magic?

SCARLET:

Now you're getting it.

EXT. RIPTO - DAY

KAL and ELSA walk over to SCARLET, who is sitting on the landing ramp.

ELSA:

Is everything ready?

SCARLET:

Yep, so where do we go from here?

ELSA:

According to the map, the stone is somewhere there on The Lonesome Island. Ten miles north.

SCARLET:

The one in the middle of the so called, ocean of storms.

KAL:

Yeah taking the ship is a bit of risk with an ocean by that name.

ELSA:

You superstitious or something?

KAL:

Every myth and legend is based on something.

ELSA:
Then how do we make it across the ocean?

SCARLET:
With this.

ELSA:
That's a wooden box.

SCARLET:
Oh, it's not just any old box. Watch this.

SCARLET turns a crank on the box and throws it into the ocean.

KAL:
You did turn the crank the right way?

SCARLET:
Of course I did.
(Beat)
Did I have to turn it left or right?

Bubbles start coming from the water, as a large wooden boat emerges from the ocean.

SCARLET:
Aha! I knew I did it right.

ELSA:
OK, so the box is now a boat?

SCARLET:
You like it? Something I found in the ruins of Asgard.

The three step onto the boat.

SCARLET:
Right then. Of we go.
(Casting a spell)
Ventosa.

The spell summons some wind through the boats sails, pushing it forward.

ELSA:
What was that?

SCARLET:
Oh nothing, i just summoned some wind to give us a push in the right direction.

ELSA:
You really summoned that wind using that belt?

KAL:
Indeed, she uses it to control the elements. Earth, wind, fire, water.
That sort of thing.

ELSA:
So witchcraft?

SCARLET:
I prefer the term sorcery, but sure call it that.

ELSA:
So this Tempest creature, what do you know about him?

SCARLET:
Just legends really.

KAL:
Scarlet, we've met the gods of over a dozen pantheons, what's so different about this one?

SCARLET:
What I'm saying is that those who have witnessed the Titan's wrath have never lived to tell the tale. Not even the one who managed to kill Tempest. The only award he got for slitting the giants throat was witnessing the planet flood as a result.

ELSA:
Look! Land straight ahead!

KAL:
Um...That's not land.

The group sees a giant dead lobster laying in the water.

SCARLET:
So the legends are real.

ELSA:
Is that Tempest? That thing is huge!

KAL:
Is it dead?

SCARLET:
Judging by the decay and rot on the shell; this thing died centuries ago. Take us in, Kal.

ELSA:
But we have a job to do.

SCARLET:
For heavens sake, the night is young. When else will you get the opportunity to see an ancient Titan up close.

KAL:
Fear not miss Elsa. This must be the Titan that once owned the stone, we should find some clues in the ring on the giants claw.

KAL continues to row the boat.

ELSA:
Exploring the corpse of a giant lobster, this was not what I signed up for.

EXT. TEMPEST'S BODY - CONTINUOUS:

The group dock the boat and walk on Tempest's giant claw.

KAL:
Here we are: take only what we need.

ELSA:
This place is off. The texture of the creatures shell almost feels like...

KAL: Metal?

ELSA:

Exactly.

ELSA stomps her foot on the metal like surface.

SCARLET:

Never mind that, this place smells.

ELSA:

Well this is the corpse of a giant crustacean that we're standing on.

SCARLET:

No, this is different. Can anyone else smell burning metal? No...just me?

ELSA:

There's so many bad smells it's hard to tell one from the other.

SCARLET:

Fair enough.

SCARLET snaps her fingers as the wooden boat turns back into the box.

ELSA:

Be careful everyone. This place could be dangerous.

KAL:

Over there, is that a metal ring?

The team walk over to the giant ring on Tempest's claw.

SCARLET:

It is! That must be Tempest's claw ring; and the jewel was probably kept in the slot.

ELSA:

So where is it now?

SCARLET:

You have the map, you tell us.

A smoke grenade lands near the group.

KAL:

Watch out grenade!

The smoke grenade goes off. SCARLET and Elsa start chocking.

KAL:
Scarlet. Stay with me Scarlet!

A force field opens up, revealing an of shore base next to Tempest's body.

SCARLET:
Is that a force field?

KAL:
No, Scarlet, stay with me Scarlet!

CAPTAIN MCQUEEN and some armoured soldiers approach KAL.

MCQUEEN:
Hello there.

KAL:
Who are you people?!

QUEEN:
The name's McQueen. And I can ask you the same question tin man, you are trespassing.

MCQUEEN lights a cigar and smokes it.

KAL:
I don't want any trouble, we're just a couple of explorers.

MCQUEEN:
Funny, that's what the last group that tried to steal from me said. Wait, I recognise you. You're Dr Orion's husband. I'm surprised to see you working with one of Corvo's goons.

KAL:
I'm just doing a job, and you're not going to let us leave aren't you?

The soldiers aim their guns.

QUEEN:
I'm afraid not, tin man.

KAL:
Very well then.

KAL shoots MCQUEEN with the laser blaster, but it does no damage.

KAL:
What? What magic is this?

QUEEN:
This is no magic. I see you like my armour. Thanks to the big guy your weapons cannot hurt me.

MCQUEEN shoots KAL with a taser, shorting his circuits out.

QUEEN:
Bring them inside, and get Dr Orion's belt.

SOLDIERS:
Yes captain!

The solders drag the three unconscious bodies as MCQUEEN takes out a communicator device.

MCQUEEN:
(Talking on the communicator)
Raptor, I found a droid wondering around the base, I want full access to his memory bank.

INT. OFF SHORE BASE - HOLDING CELL - LATER:

SCARLET wakes up in a metal cell.

SCARLET:
Ow! My head.

ELSA:
Still with us?

SCARLET:
What happened? Where's KAL?!

ELSA:
No idea, they took him else where.

SCARLET:
Well then we've got to get out of here.

SCARLET realises her belt is gone.

SCARLET:
(Panicking)
My belt! What happened to my belt?!

ELSA:
They probably took it when you were unconscious; same with my weapons and the map.

SCARLET:
Oh no. This is not good! I have no magic without it.

ELSA:
Calm down! If we're going to get out of here we need to focus.

SCARLET:
You're right. So what do we know about these thugs?

ELSA:
Take a look.

The two look outside the window; they see a mining crew operating on Tempest's body.

SCARLET:
Are those minners?

ELSA:
Indeed, dozens of them. They've clearly been working at this long before we got here.

The miners cut chunks Tempest's metal shell of his body.

SCARLET:
They cutting Tempest's shell? Why?

ELSA:
The equipment they're using, Corvo Tech sells similar equipment to mining planets. Look down there. Those kart tracks must lead into the base.

The workers load the large shell pieces into a mine kart and wheel it away.

SCARLET:
Clearly Tempest's whole shell is made from that metal; but what are they using it for? Never mind all that, we need to get out of here.

ELSA:
Lucky for you I've been trained in situations like this. The doors locking mechanism should be here.

ELSA pulls a panel of the wall.

SCARLET:
Do you even know how to hack a doors security system open?

ELSA:
Just need to find the right wires.

ELSA touches two wires together, hacking the door open.

SCARLET:
Well done Ms Elsa! What now?

ELSA:
We get the map, that temple must not be far.

SCARLET:
We need to get KAL and my belt back first.

ELSA:
Fine, but follow me lead on this one.

SCARLET: Deal.

The two shake hands.

INT. BASE HALLWAY - LATER:

MCQUEEN is talking to a client via a communicator device.

MCQUEEN:
We are on schedule and we have of thirty tons of scrap metal shaved of that titans exoskeleton. Alright, we meet tomorrow and remember the twelve million credits or the deal's off!

McQueen turns his communicator device off.

QUEEN:

Well this takes care of one problem.

INT. WORKSHOP - CONTINUOUS:

KAL is being electrocuted By RAPTOR, one of MCQUEEN's henchmen.

KAL:

Ahhh!

MCQUEEN enters.

MCQUEEN:

Raptor, turn it off.

Raptor turns off the machine.

MCQUEEN:

Have we found anything useful in the machine's head?

RAPTOR:

Despite some resistance, we've managed to hack into his memory systems.

QUEEN:

What have you found?

RAPTOR operates the machine controls. This causes A holographic recording to project from KAL's head.

This hologram is a recording of SCARLET'S meeting with VALDIUS.

KAL:

And this Tempest person is one of the them as well?

SCARLET:

It's said that Tempest had an arm band that could let him summon lightning from his mighty claws.

VALDIUS:

A business partner gave me this map. She says the jewel of Tempest's magical ring is located there...

MCQUEEN:

A ha. Valdius sent you after the lightning stone, didn't he?

KAL:

Maybe he did, i must congratulate you on beating us to it.

MCQUEEN:

What, you think I have the stone?

KAL:

You don't have it?

RAPTOR:

Not through a lack of trying. We've sent multiple unmanned drones to the lonesome island in order to find the temple of the stone; none of them came back.

KAL:

So there's still life on the island?

QUEEN:

Seems so. Still we've made already quite a fortune selling the pieces of this titans shell.

KAL:

Wait, you're selling pieces of Tempest's exoskeleton?

RAPTOR:

Oh yes. Not only is this stuff hard as hell, it's surprising easy to forge. We've used it to make quite a lot of stuff. Armour, weapons, tools. Even the chair you're sitting on.

MCQUEEN:

I got to hand it to you, that map could be very useful indeed. Tell me, what get rich quick scheme does Corvo want do with the lightning stone anyway?

KAL:

Now why would I tell you that?

MCQUEEN:

I have have plenty of experience with droids. You may not talk now; but if I have to rip any information out your head, so be it.

RAPTOR flicks the switch, electrocuting KAL.

KAL:

Ahhh!

Another hologram randomly starts projecting.

MCQUEEN:

(To RAPTOR)

What did you do?!

RAPTOR:

I didn't do anything; Its playing on its own.

This hologram is a recording of SCARLET and a human version of KAL.

KAL (HUMAN):

You know what Scarlet, coming here wasn't such a bad idea after all.

SCARLET:

It's beautiful isn't it?

KAL (HUMAN):

Indeed it is. Not as pretty as you though.

SCARLET:

I love you too Kal.

The hologram turns to static before cutting out.

MCQUEEN:

Hey droid, what was that?

KAL:

What?

MCQUEEN:

That, that hologram; what was that about?

KAL:

I don't know.

MCQUEEN:
What do you mean you don't know?!
Surely you'd remember what that was.

KAL:
No. I don't.

RAPTOR:
Captain, I was running a diagnosis on him, and there are several memory files corrupted and hidden under multiple subroutines.

QUEEN:
A robot with suppressed memories? How interesting.

INT. BASE HALLWAY - LATER:

ELSA and SCARLET sneak down the hallway.

SCARLET:
Hold on a second.

ELSA:
(Whispering)
What? There are guards everywhere.

SCARLET:
It's my belt, i can sense its magic nearby.

ELSA:
I thought that belt was the source of your magic.

SCARLET:
There are some forms of magic that can learned without an enchantments.
Wait...it's in this room.

Some guards can be heard approaching.

ELSA:
Crap, hide!

INT. MCQUEEN'S QUARTERS - CONTINUOUS:

SCARLET and ELSA rush inside and close the doors.

SCARLET:
That was close.

ELSA:
Do you sense your belt or not?

SCARLET:
Give me a second.

ELSA:
Well?

SCARLET:
You see that safe in the wall, it's in there.

ELSA:
You think you can crack it open?

SCARLET:
I'm a treasure hunter, I've dealt more elaborate locking mechanisms than this.

SCARLET figures out the safes combination, opens it and takes her belt.

SCARLET:
Yes!

MCQUEEN:
My, aren't you clever.

ELSA:
You!

MCQUEEN flicks a lighter open, holding the map over it.

QUEEN:
Stop! Dangerous things, lighters. Now stay back unless you want your map to go up in flames.

SCARLET:
So we meet at last, whatever your name is.

MCQUEEN:
You may not know me, but I'm a admirer of your work doctor Orion. And whatever Corvo is paying you to find that stone, I'll double it if you help me.

ELSA:
Don't listen to him! This man is a terrorist and a thief.

SCARLET:
You know him?

ELSA:
McQueen is wanted throughout the galaxy, dead or alive.

MCQUEEN:
Try me Veto.

MCQUEEN burns the map.

ELSA:
You'll die for that!

SCARLET:
Elsa no!

ELSA shoots MCQUEEN, the blast having no effect on his armour.

SCARLET:
What?

MCQUEEN:
Your weapons don't scare me. You help me and I give your droid back in one piece. Deal or no deal?

KAL electrocutes MCQUEEN.

MCQUEEN:
Ahhh!

MCQUEEN falls to the floor unconscious.

KAL:
No deal, captain.

SCARLET:
KAL! Where did you get the taser?

KAL:
Swiped it of him when he wasn't looking. He does talk on and on and...

SCARLET hugs KAL.

SCARLET:

Oh I'm so glad you're OK.

KAL:

Listen, we don't have long before they realise I've gone missing.

SCARLET:

Indeed, I suggest we head back to the ship and get help.

KAL:

We can't. McQueen has hacked my data banks. He knows everything we do.

SCARLET:

Oh really, what did they find?

KAL:

They know that I've seen at the map. They made a copy.

SCARLET:

In that case, we get moving and get the stone before they do.

ELSA:

But we don't have the map.

KAL:

True, but if we continue going north we should find the lonesome island in no time.

SCARLET:

Great.

SCARLET throws a chair through a window.

ELSA:

The hell are you doing, witch?!

SCARLET:

Wait for it.

The chair can be heard landing in the ocean outside.

SCARLET:
Right, by my calculations we have twenty five foot drop, and an ocean to land on.

SCARLET takes the box from her bag and turns the crank.

ELSA:
Are you suggesting we jump out the window?

SCARLET:
If you have other ideas I'm open to suggestions. Woo hoo!

The two watch SCARLET jump out of the window.

ELSA:
Kal, you're married to a mad woman.

SOLDIER #1:
The prisoners are in here!

KAL:
Come on, out the window!

KAL and ELSA jump out of the window and fall into the ocean.

EXT. OFF SHORE BASE - CONTINUOUS:

KAL and ELSA swim, as Elsa gasp for air.

KAL:
Elsa... you OK?

SCARLET:
Hey, get on board!

KAL and ELSA climb aboard SCARLET'S boat.

ELSA:
That was beyond courageous.

MCQUEEN'S henchmen shoot at the boat.

KAL:
Get the boat going!

SCARLET:
Ventosa! Ventosa!

SCARLET'S spell summons some wind to push the boat across the water.

EXT. OPEN OCEAN - CONTINUOUS:

The group escapes as the boat sails further across the ocean.

ELSA:

So what's your plan now?

SCARLET:

We go north and find the stone.

KAL:

Listen. Do you hear that?

SCARLET:

What?

ELSA:

They've stopped firing. We must be out of reach.

KAL:

So we're in the clear?

ELSA:

For now. Knowing militias like these thugs, they'll be back.

SCARLET:

Look Elsa, you said you knew who this McQueen fellow was, so spill the beans.

ELSA:

He's a known weapons dealer, wanted on several star systems for stealing various supplies to build the custom made weapons he sells on the black market

SCARLET:

Like the mining tools his crew we're using?

KAL:

So that explains why he's harvesting Tempest's shell; McQueen said his armour and blasters are made of the same metal.

ELSA:
God only knows what he wants to make using the lightning stone.

SCARLET:
In that case we must find that stone
before McQueen does.

KAL: Agreed.

ELSA:
Then by all means, lead the way doctor
Orion.

SCARLET:
Alright, on wards.

INT. MCQUEEN'S QUARTERS - CONTINUOUS

MCQUEEN:
No, the safe! Please tell me she didn't take it...

MCQUEEN opens a box and takes out a gold amulet

QUEEN:
Oh thank god, the necklace is still here.

SOLDIER #1:
Captain, the prisoners are out of reach, should we fire up the jets?

MCQUEEN:
No, that won't necessary. Raptor, is that copy of the map ready yet?

RAPTOR:
It's being printed as we speak.

MCQUEEN:
Good. Even if doctor Orion makes it to the temple of the lightning stone, she's going to need this.

SOLDIER #1:
The amulet?

QUEEN:
Yes. It's the key they'll need get inside the temple.
